Treasurer's Report

There was no Treasurer's Report as the Treasurer was not able to attend the meeting. John Schwebel indicated that there will be two vouchers submitted. One for renewal of web hosting ($120.00) and the second is maintenance of the Commission's domain name.

Core Team Report

The group discussed the Police-Disabilities Seminar hosted by the Commission and the County Prosecutor's Office in December. John Sorrentino reported that the participant evaluations were overwhelmingly positive and that several police departments have requested individual sessions from some presenters. There was consensus from the group that a "Part Two" of the seminar be scheduled for December 2013.

Committees: Communications

Carolyn Schwebel reported that she has begun publicizing the Earl T. Teasley Humanitarian Award presentation February 4, 2013. Carolyn also informed the group the Attorney Daniel Weiss has expressed interest in joining the Commission.

Unfinished Business

Charles Brown reported that the County will allocate the $2,200 budget earmarked for the Commission will be available in quarters. He also stated that the Commission has not yet submitted a formal budget request to his office. Jeff Delaney will submit a budget before the next meeting on February 4.

It was decided that the Commission will help with Public Relations and promotion for Brookdale Community College's "Big Read."

Daryl Hughes brought up the matter of an alleged discrimination which occurred during the Presidential campaign. Discussion followed. Carolyn volunteered to gather former complaint responses so that the commission may have future references on hand. James Terrell and Angel Quiles agreed to draft some template letters.

The meeting was adjourned at 4:57
